The Theater Next Week.

Next Monday evening the Troubadons commence a three nights engagement at the Memphis Theater. They will appear Monday, Toesday and Wednesday nights, and also give a matine at two o'clock We'lnesday atternoon. The Troubadours have drawn large houses and afforded excetlent enjoyment in the cities they have visited, and we hope to see them equally successful during their stoort 'engagement here. From a Louisville exchange we take the following comment concerning this troupe while in that city;
"The season at Macanley's theater opened last evening with Salisbury's Troubadours, a most excellent and deserving combination. The attendance was good, and the reception of the performance such as to warrant a successful week, and these who were there last evening will not deny that the company is deserving.
The entertainment commenced ast evening with Halliday's London success, entitled Saliling Under Folse Colors, an adaptation of Checknode. It is a very annusing bit, of dramatic work, and was given hast night in a manner that bespoic the highest praise for those who sustained the various characters. Mr. Oliver Wren, who is not unknown to a Louisville andience, having taiffiled an engagement at the old thenters, appeared as "Sain Winkle." He is a good comedian, and the audience were not slow to recognize his merit. His portrayal of the character brought out it is chief points with fine effect, and he was warmly applicated.

Patche ord was the chief feature of the evening. This play is a similar production to the Betles of the Auchen, in which the Volkes family have won such brilliant success. The play was arranged especially for the company, and is admirately adapted to the display of great versatility of talent. The leading characters were in the hands of Mr. Salisbury, Mr. Wren, Miss Wilsen, and Miss Milenry, and each proved cayable of the task assigned them. The The Theater Next Week. Miss Wilson, and Miss M'Henry, and each proved capable of the task assigned them. The performance throughout was highly amusing and contained some very interesting features. The Troubadours have made a good impression and their meson; successing the tasks.

To-morrow night the Jeffer on-street to-morrow high the Jeneryn-Sreet. Vandeville Theater, under management of Mr. Myers, will open for the season with a first-class troupe of talented artists. Manager Myers informs us that he will conduct his place of amusement in a manner to please the public, and will provide an excellent variety entertainment that will merit the most liberal patronage of the citizens of Memphis. The troupe which opens to-morrow night canbe troupe which opens to morrow night can-of fall to interest all who make it convenient

To the Commercial Editors of the Avalanche and Appeal:
As subscribers to both of the above-named papers, and as members of the cotton exchange, we would respectfully call your attention to the fact that the manner in which you quote the New Orieans market we think incorrect, as you use the half-grades, namely, "strict good ordinary," "strict low middling, etc. These grades have been ignored by the National cotton exchange, hence they do not exist. believes had induced him to make the strack. As Rankin's statement of the difficulty has been given, we also present below that of Cash Mosby, who under the shadow of the law took the precaution to arm himself with a pistol when he visited Rankin's house. In his statement, cash denies the truth of Rankin's story, and then in the following manner progress. And Others.

The above statement, by the gentlemen whose names are attached thereto, meets our views in so far as the quotations are concern-ed. However, the publication of the New Or-I am a sou-in-law of Mrs. Maria Rankin, and am living in peace and quiet with my wife and two children. I propose to lay the facts about this matter before your readers, just as I can and will prove in court. My mother-in-law lives with myself and wife, who is her daughter, because on account of the treatment she received at the hands of this Hon. William Rankin, who was her husband; she was compelted to leave him. She had nowhere else to go for protection from him but to my house. Mrs. Rankin has filed a bill in the first chancery court of Shelby county for a divorce from this man Rankin has filed a bill in the first chancery court of Shelby county for a divorce from this man Rankin on account of his lil-treatment toward herself, and unlawful association with other women; all of which will in due time be established in court. Mrs. Rankin is the owner of certain city property, ed. However, the publication of the New Orleans quotations, as received by telegraph through the Associated Press, has been due to the fact that we have had no other reports from that city save by this means. The fault has not been with our commercial editor, as he has nothing whatever to do with the quotations sent from that or other cities by the Associated Press. The complaint of the Memphismerchants will be heeded by the APPEAL, which had long since rectified the error had we been given, as we now are, the correct official quotations by the Secretary of our cotton cial quotations by the secretary of our cott exchange. We regret that the dealers in co n its sale, should not have sooner discovere he fraud and hastened to enter the very ju due time be established in court. Mrs. Rankin is the owner of certain city property, among which is a house on Linden street, which this man Rankin is unlawfully in possession of, the court having decreed Mrs. Rankin its full control and possession pending the divorce suit. I have just referred to, Mrs. lankin, by written lease signed by her, which I have, on the twentieth of this month rented this same house on Linden street for the izem of twelve months to me. By the advice of Mrs. Rankin's attorney, she went with me, yesterday, to the Linden street house in order to the frank and hastened to enter the very just complaint above given. The quotations of the Associated Press agent at New Orleans de-mand attention from the general man-seger of the association, and we hope he will at once see that this inexcussible imposition be at once done over with The probations as given officially away with. The quotations as given officially by the cotion exchange of that city, and re-ceived by the Memphis cotion exchange, are published in to-day's APPLAL, and will herepublished in to-day's APPEAL, and will hereafter appear regularly, until the associated market reports from that city are made to conform to the uniform bas's agreed upon long since and now accepted throughout the Union. Our official (cotton exchange) report of yesterday, from New Orleans, reads as follows: "September 23d -3 p.m., -Market quiet; middling, 13%c; sales, 1000 bales; recetpts, 1280 bales; stock, 18,005 bales." The Associated Press agent's report, which we discard for the above, reads as follows: "Cotton—demand fair; sales, 1000 bales; good middlings, 13%c913%c; receipts, follows: "Cotton—demand fair; sales, 1990 bales; good middlings, 1354@15 c; receipts, 1322 bales: exports construise, 22 bales; stock, 13,56 bale." From this it will be seen that there is some disparity to the receipts of tock, which is doubless due to the fact that the cotton exchange gives the nets, while the Associated Press credits the whole amount received and stored as net. In this connection we will say that it is useless for the publishers of a commercial handbill to continue fraudulent quotations in order to to continue fraudulent quotations in order to benefit New Orleans to the detriment of other cities. The sconer these fraudulent quota-tions, as "strict good ordinary," and "strict low middling" are discontinued, the more creditable will it be to New Orleans and her Preliminary Measures Yesterday by the Policemen for the Organization of a Mutual Benevolent Association.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the police force met in Chief Athy's office, to inaugurate the necessary measures for the organization of a mutual benevolent associa-tion. In addition to the officers and patrol-men of the force, Chief Athy and the police commissioners were present at the marking men of the force, Chief Athy and the police commissioners were present at the meeting, which was called to order by the election of Michael Magevney, Sr., temporary chairman, and the appointment of Sim L. Barinds temporary secretary. Commissioner Magevney addressed the meeting relative to the purposes for which it had been called, and suggested what seemed to him as proper and desirable for the successful accomplishment of the end in view.

After Mr. Magevney's remarks, Chief Athy, Captain Braun, Sergeant Arratta, Patvolmen As will be seen by reference to our ommence an engagament at the Memphis heater next Monday night. This troupe is now in Indianapolis, and one of its members, diver Wren, was yesterday made the victim Captain Braun, Sergeant Arratta, Patrolmen A. M. Boyd and W. C. Davis were appointed a committee to draft a suitable constitution and of a joke which doubtless caused him to jump about with no little trepidation. From the by-laws, and to take peressary steps for by-laws, and to take necessary steps for securing a charter. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned. The committee will meet in Chief Ainy's office at four o'clock this afternoon. The organization of a Policemen's benevolent association will be of much benefit to its members and their families, and we hope to see these worthy officers substantially aided and generously encouraged in anics are not more connect that most have been Mr. Wren's feelings ere he received an answer to his dispatch. The following is the telegram of inquiry: "INDIAPOLIS. IND., Sept. 23, 1875. "To Dr. W. E. healthy. Astonishingly yours,
Seriously speaking, we regret that Mr. Wren, or any other person, should have been so unnecessarily agitated by a joke which, by some means, has been perpetrated upon him. Memphis was never in a healthier condition than at the present time, and no time within her history as a city have the prospects for business been more cheering. Our readers will be very much astonished when they read the above telegram from Mr. Wren, but in consideration of the fean that have assailed and preyed upon his mind, terrible as the phantom dagger of Macbeth, und yet, we hope, harmless as the sword suspended above the cranium of Damoeles, the citizens of Memphis will give him and his fellow Troubadours a big house during their engagement at the Theater here next Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Moreover, the ladies, matrons, nice small boys, and interesting children will fill the Theater to overflowing at the Wednesday matinee. So right this way, Mr. Merriman?
